Why Coastline?

A Look at Newport's Community College Resources

Coastline Community College is an accredited institution that is one of 112 community colleges in California. Founded in 1976, Coastline opened its Newport Beach campus in 2013. It has always been known for serving students in non-traditional ways—working around their schedules and providing classes in convenient locations...and offering a variety of majors that can be completed completely online.

OCC on the water.... The renowned and popular School of Sailing and Seamanship, is one of the nation's largest public boating education programs and offers courses in virtually all aspects of sailing, powerboating, seamanship and navigation. Due to the need for additional parking, the school is working on a plan to build a pedestrian bridge across Coast Highway.

Join us to hear about these unique and valued educational resources...located right here in Newport Beach. Speakers are Nathan Brais, Director of Student Life & Outreach at Coastline Community College, and Brad Avery is the Director of the School of Sailing and Seamanship, OCC. Questions and answers follow the presentation.
