Preparing for the Unthinkable: What to Do if an Active Shooter Crosses Your Path

We all think “Not here!” – but what if a shooter came into your place of business or other public location? Would you know what to do to survive? These types of situations are often unpredictable and can happen anywhere.

- How can you prepare for this type of threat?
- What options do you have to save your life and the lives of those around you?
- What should you expect when law enforcement personnel arrive?

Join Officer Marie Gamble and other members of the Newport Beach Police Department for an informative session on keeping your wits about you should the unthinkable happen.

Questions and answers follow the presentation.
